Here is a detail map showing the exact location:

Here are some directions:

If you are coming from the South:

Interstate 280 feeds directly onto Highway 1, which is 19th Avenue. On 280 take the left branch, marked Golden Gate Bridge.

On Hwy 1, just before entering Golden Gate Park, turn Right onto Lincoln Way. When Lincoln starts to bend left, depart from the main traffic flow by staying to the right on to Fredirck Street.

A few blocks later, turn Right on to Stanyan Street. Turn Right on the next block. It is Carl Street. The house is on the Right.

If you are coming from the East Bay / Hwy 101:

Take the 101 Freeway to its end at the Fell Street Exit. Follow Fell Street out West until you see the Panhandle (an extension of G.G. Park) on the left.

The main road will bend to the left. You should be in the far-right lane and proceed until it dead-ends on Stanyan Street. Turn Left.

Follow Stanyan past Golden Gate Park, up to Carl Street. You will notice the Muni Metro streetcar tracks in the road. Turn Right. The house is on the right.

If you are coming from Downtown:

Proceed directly out Geary Street, a main one-way artery. It will turn into a large divided boulevard.

Turn left on to Stanyan Street. There is a left-turn lane. Look for Mel's Diner (large flag) on the left as a landmark that you are close.

Follow Stanyan past Golden Gate Park, up to Carl Street. You will notice the Muni Metro streetcar tracks in the road. Turn Right. The house is on the right.

An alternate & more colorful route: Take Market Street all the way to the large Castro Street intersection, where Market starts the incline to the left up to Twin Peaks.

Take 17th Street, which goes up between Market and Castro on the Right (between the gas station and the little grass knoll). You need to be in the far-right lane on Market.

Take 17th up the steep hill until it dead-ends into Stanyan Street. Turn Right. Proceed down about 4 blocks to Carl Street and turn Left. The house is on the Right.

P Parking

You've got to be kidding! This is San Francisco. There is no such thing!

Well, O.K. we are quite fortunate. There is a very inexpensive outdoor City-run lot - with a real person on duty - on Stanyan Street, opposite Beulah St. It is only 2 blocks from our house, but it is a slightly uphill walk. Find the P symbol on the map above.
